Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 28 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Some heavy rain at times Thursday night. Friday turning drier.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy, mild and windy with further rain, very heavy at times across many parts especially over the hills, where fog could be dense in places. Some drier interludes are likely especially later across northern parts. Breezy. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Friday:
Cloudy with some rain during the morning, which will turn increasingly showery. Cloud break with drier, brighter spells developing through the afternoon. Dry and clear by evening. Winds decreasing later. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Changeable and windy at times. Further rain or showers, which will be occasionally heavy, especially over the hills. Saturday night mainly dry. Gales probable for Monday and turning colder.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.